BRAND ORIGIN

Robin Capital was born from the other side of the table.
A founder who built, risked, failed, learned, adapted, and kept going. After many ventures and adventures, experience became perspective, and the founder became an investor. Every lesson acquired along the way became part of a new way of investing: founder to founder, with the knowledge of someone who has lived the journey firsthand. Today, that journey has made Robin Capital a Top 10 Solo GP worldwide. From founder. To investor. Always founder at heart.

META, CAROLINSIEL, CAPTAIN W.J. HAAK

Captain W.J. Haak (Captain Weyert Janssen Haak): Originally from Neuharlingersiel, he later settled in Timmel and belonged to the extensive East Frisian Haak family of captains and master shipbuilders, whose roots and shipbuilding history are closely connected to Carolinensiel.
The shipping company's fleet included historic two-masted schooners—coastal and cargo vessels measuring approximately 25 metres in length. In 1880, the ship came into the ownership of Captain Weyert Janssen Haak.

IN FOUNDERS WE TRUST

01 THE ROBIN — Joy · Spirit · Navigation

- The namesake.
- Bird of joy — lightness despite the weight of life.
- A messenger — connecting people and worlds.
- Navigation without a visible map.
- A natural compass: guided by the unseen.
- The European robin possesses an extraordinary magnetic sense of direction; its possible "quantum compass" is the subject of intensive research.
- Knowing where you belong, even when you cannot see the way.
- Spiritually: the bird as a symbol of the Holy Spirit.
- Freedom, vigilance, hope.
- Joy above. Direction within. Faith beyond sight.

02 THE ANCHOR — Integrity · Courage · Loyalty

- Knowing what you stand for.
- Having an inner North Star.
- Integrity when nobody is watching.
- Courage when fear would be easier.
- Loyalty when leaving would be easier.
- Honor, strength, reliability.
- Knowing when to drop anchor.
- Finding a harbor.
- Home, belonging, roots.
- Remembering where you come from.
- Standing firm without becoming immovable.
- Values are the anchor when everything else moves.

03 THE SHIP — Courage · Craft · Passage

- Rooted in Frisian heritage and carried forward through generations.
- The sea as the unknown.
- The ship as the decision to set out nonetheless.
- We navigate through deep waters.
- No complete plan. No certain weather.
- Navigation instead of control.
- Craft instead of hope alone.
- Courage, skill, and trust in equal measure.
- Weather the storms, correct the course, sail on.
- Craft passed from one generation to the next.
- Do not wait for the sea to become calm.
- Learn how to hold your own upon it.
- Faith sets the course. Craft keeps the ship afloat.

04 THE SCALLOP — Pilgrimage · Unity · Faith

- The scallop shell — the symbol of the pilgrim.
- Many paths. One source. One destination.
- Everyone begins from a different place.
- What matters is to keep moving.
- The journey changes the person, not just the destination.
- Trusting even when the next stretch of the path remains hidden.
- Lose. Find. Keep going.
- All of life as a pilgrimage.
- Everything is movement.
- Everything returns to the One.
- Different paths. One source. One destination.

EVERYONE IS EQUAL

A circle made of many equal points.

The meaning of the symbol Dot & The circle is about awareness and the union of conscious and unconscious: wholeness.

The dot is the individual self. The circle is the greater whole.

In alchemy, a circle with a central dot represents the Sun, symbolising:

source consciousness life force creative energy illumination

Some readers interpret it through Jungian psychology. The symbol represents: the center of the psyche the union of conscious and unconscious wholeness individuation The dot is the individual self. The circle is the greater whole.

THE SECRET OF A FOUNDER

The secret of a founder is not the idea.
Everyone has ideas.

It is not the pitch deck.
Not the strategy.
Not the funding.

The secret of a founder lives somewhere between the heart and the mind — in that place where something not yet built but already

Because building a company is not an outside journey.
It's an inside journey disguised as an outside one.

Sooner or later, every founder discovers that the real challenge was never the market, the fundraising.
or the competition.
It was understanding themselves.

The founder with intention keeps going when the numbers don't make sense.
When people doubt.
When there is no guarantee it will work.

The greatest founders don't build companies because they want a company.
They build because something inside them wants to become real.
The company is simply the expression.

The secret of a founder is when heart and mind stop arguing and start walking in the same direction.
When attention becomes intention.
When action becomes devotion.
When DOING becomes BEING.

You can do something because you have to.
Or you can do it with intention.
And that changes everything.
It changes the outcome.
It changes the timing.
It changes the people you attract.
It even changes who you are while doing it.

IN FOUNDERS WE TRUST.
ROBIN CAPITAL.

Some think wanting something is enough.
It isn't.
Willpower alone is noise.
Real founders know something else.
They know that anything that holds back eventually dies.

If you hold back your thoughts,
your love, your energy, your contribution,
you go against the very movement of life itself.
Everything moves.
The earth moves.
The stars move.
The universe moves.
There is no way to stand still.

The secret of a founder is learning how to move with it.
Not by forcing.
Not by controlling.
But by aligning.

Because there comes a moment when you realise that you are not running the process.
You are stepping into it.

And when intention is clear, something remarkable happens.
The idea.
The team.
The timing.
The unexpected.
Everything begins to collaborate.
As if the system, and the entire universe itself, has decided to help.

That's when founders discover a deeper truth:
You don't own your work.
You contribute to it.
You serve it.
You water the flower
instead of picking it.

And maybe that is the real secret.
Not success.
Not money.
Not status.
But the willingness to devote yourself completely to something without needing to own the outcome.

Because the secret of a founder is not what they build.
The secret of a founder is the intention with which they build.
And that intention is what remains long after the company, the product, and even the founder themselves have disappeared.
Like a drop that finally realizes it was never separate from the ocean

WHAT IS SACRED GEOMETRY?

Sacred geometry, Platonic solids and Zen symbols act as visual blueprints of the universe, blending mathematical perfection with spiritual mindfulness.

Since ancient times, various geometric shapes, patterns, and proportions have been deemed sacred, thought to hold the secrets of the universe within them.

THE FOUNDER PARADOX

Robin X Boris Bolz
INSIDE BEFORE OUTSIDE
A FOUNDER'S REFLECTION RETREAT

Before you start your business, be sure why you are doing it.
Not to express yourself. But to express what life means to you.

Most companies begin with an explorer.
Someone driven by curiosity, vision, intuition, creativity, and the desire to build something new.
But as the company grows, the role changes.
Suddenly the founder is expected to optimise systems, manage hundreds of people, communicate structure, control processes, and scale operations.
The explorer is asked to become the exploiter.
Two completely different energies.

Many founders experience this shift without realising that the discomfort they feel is not failure, but misalignment.

Not every visionary is meant to become a CEO.
Not every founder is happiest operating a large organisation.
And sometimes the healthiest decision is not becoming someone else for the company, but understanding who you naturally are and building around it.

WHO IS BORIS BOLZ?

CEO.
ZEN.
BOTH.

CLARITY CHANGES DECISION MAKING.

Like Robin,
Boris Bolz experienced both sides:

- the outside world of achievement and
- the inside world of awareness.

After decades in top leadership environments, Boris stepped away to explore silence, Zen, and human clarity at its deepest level.

Today, he helps founders and leaders align their external success with their internal truth.

Not by escaping ambition.
But by understanding it.

THE RETREAT EXPERIENCE

AN ORIGINAL IAM ESCAPE

Hosted at I-am-Escape, the retreat combines silence, reflection, nature, conversation, movement, and deep founder exchange.

Participants step out of constant performance mode and reconnect with:

- their personal values
- their motivations
- their natural strengths
- their leadership identity
- their relationship to success and the question of what kind of life they truly want to build

The goal is to help the inside and outside worlds align. Because when those worlds disconnect, companies often become substitutes for identity, validation, or unresolved inner conflict.

The Core Value
Connect the inside with the outside.
Before scaling a company, understand the person building it.
The clearest companies are often built by the clearest people.

DOUBLE INTERVIEW CONCEPT

The Double Interview concept creates a conversation between two versions of the same person in different times and roles: Founder and Investor, Mother and Founder, Mentor and Venture Partner. Looking back across five years of experience, the founder asks the questions he once needed answers to, while the investor responds with the perspective of someone who has built, scaled, backed, and survived. A dialogue between ambition and real life experiences.

A SPECIAL PODCAST : YOU INTERVIEWING YOURSELF

Founder Robin from 5 years ago talking to Investor Robin and reflecting on himself:

Investor Robin answers with the experience of someone who has built, scaled, backed, and survived.

Founder Robin:

1- If Founder Robin pitched Investor Robin today—would you invest?

2- Do you back the idea, the market, or the person who refuses to quit?

3- What did you underestimate as a founder?

4- When a founder pitches you, what do you look for beyond the idea?

5- What scared you most as a founder?

6- How do you know if a founder can survive the dark years?

Investor Robin:

1. How do you know you can trust a founder?
2. Would you have trusted founder Robin?
3. How has your relationship with risk changed?
4. What's a decision you made as a founder that an investor would have questioned?
5. Everyone says they have a network – most don't. What does that actually mean—and how do you make it work for founders?
6. What's the most important thing you learned from being a founder and an investor?
